as uniting the wisdom of Jefferson with the firmness of Jackson and the patriotism of Washington. (Cheers.) What is true of Georgia is true of every other Democratic State here represented and it might be truthfully stried that this vast and grand assemblage of patriots and Democratic may be called but a formal convocation assembled together to ratify the action of the sovereignities which have already spoken. (Cheers.) The great Democratic masses of the country, wite elbows touching, have marched in solid and unbroken phalanx to this great city by the Father of waters. Upon each flowing banner is inserthed a solitary name and that name has been their pillar of cloud by day and their pillar of fire by night; that name has been Grover Cheveland. (Cheers.) With a mighty shout, yes, I say; with a mighty shout, the will be preclaimed our next standard bearer in the eming conflict. (Cheers.) The people at home were becoming rapidly educated and cannot be much longer kept in ignorance of the great truths and principles of which he is the splendid exponent, and they will ratify that nomination at the polls, for, as soon as the ides of November come, the Republican party of the United States will have received its death wound and final overthrow. In 1884 the public career of Grover Clevetand was

The nomination of Mr. Cleveland was seconded also

The nomination of Mr. Cleveland was seconded also W. R. Morrison, of Illinois, Mr. Stout, of Michigan. The States of Minnesota and Mississippi were called by the secretary with no response from the delegates. When Missouri was called, a frantic outery grose for Vest, Vest," but Vest falled to materialize, and the call went on. Nebraska, New-Hampshire and New-Jersey remained silent in their seats when called. But when the kerretary announced that it was New-York's turn, a general howl went up for Fellows. Fellows sat in the gallery behind the platform among the guests, and in response to the popular voice, he rose and bowed his acknowledgement. A number of mis-guided friends urged him to come down and give the Mr. Fellows, however, was obdurate in his determination not to expend any eloquence on this occasion and remained in his seat. North Carolina had no favorite to propose and therefore remained silent. The secretary then called the states of Ohio, Oregon and Pennsylvania; when there were loud cries for Hunt. Mr. Hunt not responding, the secretary continued and called the States of Rhode Island and South Carolina. Mr. Dawson was called for and responded as follows:

The State of South Carolina seconds the nomination Grover Cleveland and seconds the letter and the message. (Cheers.)

The State of Tennessee was called and no one respond-State of Texas was called. Mr. Lightfoot was called for to respond. He said:

We of Texas love the gallanc thieftain who, in the most remarkable campaign known to history, had the firmness to ring out as the legenote of his campaign the motto: "Tell the Truth." Applause.) We admire, Mr. Chairman, the noble statesman who had the firmness to inscribe on his tancer the motto: "A Public Office is a Public Trust." Applause.) We admire the Jacksonian firmness which penned a message to Congress throwing the entire weight of the Administration on the side of a practical sariff for revenue only. (Applause.) The State of Vermont was then called, and no response being made, the State of Virginia was called, apon which there were continued calls for Mr. Daniels. When the Territory of Montana was called there were loud cries for Mr. McGinnis, creating much laughter, but the celebrated delegate refused to make Roswell P. Flower, of New-York, had been standing at the head of his delegation, and when Mr. Waterbury announced that he had a point of order, Mr. Flower mided over to Waterbury's side and forcibly pulled him and his point of order down into a seat. Mr. Flower explained with great vigor to the unfortunate Water bury that he was interrupting the proceedings and he must insist that he keep quiet, which Mr. Waterbury proceeded to do. While this little episode was on, the convention was shouting a very loud assent, with a single exception, to the question put by the chair, and midst of the noise and confusion Mr. Collins said The chair declares that Grover Cleveland, of New-York, having received the unanimous vote, is the candilate of the Democratic party for the office of President of the United States."

Mr. Flower-I have a motion which I will send up. The Chair-The motion of Mr. Flower will be read

The Chairman-The chair desires to announce that in the event of this resolution passing the Committee on Order of Business will meet at their parior in the Southern Hotel at 8 o'clock to-night. Those gentlemen in favor of the resolution offered by Mr. Flower, which has just been read, will say aye.

The vote was put and the negative followed, and the motion was declared jost by the chairman.

Mr. Flower-That was not the resolution offered. It is written on the other side of the paper. The Chairman-Mr. Flower offers another resolution. It is that when we adjourn, we adjourn to meet at 8 o'clock this evening. The resolution of Mr. Flower is a double-headed one, written on each side. It seems that the secretary read the wrong one. Mr. Hensler, of Pennsylvania-I call for the regular order fixed by this Convention, which is that we proceed with the nominations for President and Vice-President of the United States. The Chairman-The Chair is of the opinion that when the House is in regular session, it is within the power of the House to adjourn.

Mr. Hensler-I then move that the resolution be postponed until after the order of business has been isposed of, so that we can more correctly determine the proper hour to adjourn. RAY'S SUPPORTERS ASKING FOR DELAY.

D. W. Voorhees, of Indiana-Mr. Chairman, I hope this Convention will adjourn until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. President, I do not recognize a vote en masse in this way. I therefore call for a call of the States on the question of adjournment until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. In support of that motion I desire to say what is well known to every Democrat here, that the Committee on Resolutions will not report this afternoon. We will have to be here to-morrow morning anybow, and the time stween now and then may be profitably used for the harmony and success of the Democratic party, and will result in forwarding our business and in closing the proceedings of this Convention by adopting this motion. If it were practicable for us to get through this afternoon and adjourn and go home I would not make this motion, but it has already been announced that we are to stay here and agree upon a platform of principles, and therefore I ask that the balance of the business of the Copvention be deferred until to-morrow morning also. (Cries of "Good! good!"

"Right!")

Colonel L. Victor Baughman, of Maryland-Mr. Chairman, I ask the gentlemen before they vote upon courteously to the delegates who are now in session framing a platform upon which the nominees of this Convention may stand, to proceed with the nominees to the to be proceed further with the deliberations now without their presence. Would it be courteous to them to proceed further with the deliberations of this body? They are now engaged in fraining a platform upon which, our candidates are to stand. Therefore, say in reply to our well-known friend from Pennsylvania that it would be well for us to postpone for the present these other nominated Grover Cleveland as our next President, and that we then adjourn to meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Hensier, of Pennsylvania—Mr. Chairman, the Committee on Resolutions is a delegated committee of this party and it is perfectly competent and entirely right that this party should give its directions to that subordinate hody. I propose to move in connection with this matter that this Committee on Resolutions be instructed to report to this body at a given thus. They have already been given twenty-four hours in the consideration of this platform, and if this committee is not competent in that time or within six hours longer to agree, they never will agree. (Cheers and cries of "Good!") If they are not prepared to bring one report here, let them bring two, and the Convention will decide upon it. (Cheers,) I am entirely willing, and the gentlemen who agree with me are entirely willing, if the business of nominating speeches be proceeded with and finished at this time, that this Convention to adjourn is not delatable, and the discussion thus far has proceeded only by tolerance from the Convention. The question is upon the motion made by Senator Voorbees that the Convention adjourn to meet at 8 o'clock to-nickt, we adjourn to meet at 8 o'clock to-nickt. this matter to consider whether it would be acting courteously to the delegates who are now in session

Mr. Flower—I call for the reading of that resolution again. It is that we adjourn, we adjourn until that hour.

The Chairman—The gentlemen in favor of that motion will say ave. (Cries of "Aye.")

The Chairman—Those opposed will say no. (Equally loud cries of "No.")

The Chairman—The Chair is in doubt. (Cries of "Regular order" and "Call the roll.")

The Chairman—The call of the roll is demanded.

Mr. Hesler, of Pensylvannia—Let it be understood that the agreement is between the gentlemen from New-York and those who desire to proceed with the regular order of business; that if this motion should now prevail, it will not interfere with the regular order of business.

The Chair—The Chair so understands it. Those in order of business.

The Chair—The Chair so understands it. Those in favor of taking a recess until 8 o'clock to-night, when we do adjourn, will say aya. (Cries of "Call the roll.")

The Chairman—The clerk will call the roll of States.

Mr. Patterson, of Delaware—I do not desire to enter into any debate, but to make a simple statement for the benofit of the cauvention on this question.

Senator Voorhees, of Indiana—I desire to ask what the question is.

the question is.

Mr. Patierson—The question is upon the resolution offered by Mr. Plower, that when we take a recess we adjourn until 8 o'clock this evening. I desire to make a statement for the information of the convention. I just left the room of the Committee on Resolutions. It was taen reported that information had been given to the convention that the committee could not report until 8 e'clock, therefore the committee will not be ready to report until 8 o'clock, and it is but right that when we do adjourn we adjourn until that hear.

The Chairman—The clerk will call the roll.

This was done. Several changes were made and the chairman started to announce if.

"Whole number of votes cast $17," shouted Chairman Collins rather hoursely.

"Louder, louder," yelled the delegates.

"If the goutlemen will speak smaller, I will speak louder" retorted Chairman Collins, upon which there was an outbreak of laughter. The chairman then announced the result of the vote as follows: Yeas, 367; nayes, 430.

A DAY LOST TO THURMAN'S FRIENDS Mr. Voorhees, of Indiana-I move that the Conven-tion do now adjourn until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. (Cries of "No.") We have done all that we can do with propriety until a platform is adopted. was no dispute or discussion in regard to the nomina-tion of Mr. Cleveland and that has been done. From tion of Mr. Cleveland and that has been done. From this time on the opinions of men will vary. Therefore, in the interest of a just and tair concension concerning the platform and the balance of the ficket, I ask that the roll call of the States shall be called upon my motion to adjourn till 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. (Cries of "Right" and "No."

S. M. White, of California—I have seconded the motion of Senator Voorhees and I have done it for this reason and this reason only; not to prevent the momination of any candidate, but because we should have a platform calmit, carefully and deliberately adopted. I know that there are many men here in whose bosoms the same sentiments that now animate my own are swelling, and I know that they are anxious to contribute their volces to the popular sentiment in favor of the man whom I favor (applause), but this is not a question of individuals, wnether they are candidates or wheever they may be. When you nominate your Vice-President you cannot hold this convention. If you adopt your platform, then you may proceed to the close. We have volated the ordinary rules of procedure in the interest of the sentiment of the entire convention, but let us go no further. Do not let us meet here have violated the ordinary rules of procedure in the interest of the sentiment of the entire convention, but let us go no further. Do not let us meet here a few of us, to pass upon resolutions which must go forth to the people of this country as the maxims of Democracy (applause), and with the same sentiment entertained that the gentlemen who have heretofore opposed adjournment. I say to them as one of their colleagues in the interest of their party, and in the interest of the nobles Roman of them all (applause), and in the interest of the nominee of this convention and of the party, let us adjourn until to-morrow and settle the platform calmiy, deliberately, qu'elly and (Applause.)
Governor Throckmorton, of Texas-It is clearly out of order to permit argument on a motion to adjo But I have this to say. If Grover Cleveland o be nominated without a platform, Allen G. Thur can be nominated without a platform. (Cheen ce nominated without a platform, Allen G. Thurman can be nominated without a platform. (Cheers.)

The Chair—The clerk will take the call upon the motion te adjourn until 10 o'clock to morrow morning. The clerk then proceeded with the roll call with the following result: Alabama 10 yeas, I nay: Arkansas 14 yeas, California 16 yeas, Colorado 16 yeas, Connecticut yea, Delaware 6 yeas, Florida 8 yeas.

At this point the confusion became so great that the Chairman was compelled to make the following annuacement:

"Gentlemen of the Convention: The Chair appeals to

"Gentlement:

"Gentlemen of the Convention: The Chair appeals to the delegates at least to preserve order until this matter is determined. The roll call will be suspended until the gentlemen take their seats. No debate is in order and the Chair will hear nobody until this business is done."

Mr. English, of Culifornia—I believe if a motion is put it will be carried unanimously, and I therefore move that we depense with the roll call.

The Chairman—The Chair will carry out the will of the Convention in an orderly way and will not now entertain your motion. (A voice, "That is right").

The roll call having proceeded for some time longer and the Chair being utterly unable to preserve order in the hall by reason of the large numbers of delegates who were leaving it, Mr. Tarpey, of California, renewed the motion of Mr. Wilson, of Missouri, in the following form. "In the interest of all gentlemen here present, I move you now, sir, as the temper of newed the motion of Mr. Wisson, of Missouri, in mer following form. "In the interest of all gentiemen here present, I move you now, six as the temper of this convention has been made apparent, that the fur-ther call of the roll be dispensed with and that the Chair declare this body adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning."

The Chair put the motion, which was only heard by half a hundred delegater, who voted yea, and he de-clared the Convention ajourned.

HARLEM DEMOCRATS OF TWO OPINIONS.

The Harlem Democratic Club last night adopted a resolution indorsing the action of the Convention at St. Louis in renominating President Cleveland for second term. A resolution was then offered to be telegraphed to the National Democratic Committee indorsing the nomination and indorsing the President's Message on the Tariff question. An amendment was offered proposing that the portion of the resolution which indersed the views on the tariff question be The original resolution was, however, carried. During the discussion one member said that the tariff views of the President should be indersed and that indorsement be forwarded, as it would look foolish to indorse the candidate and not his policy. The following officers of the club were elec-President, Charles W. Dayton; first vice-president, Cyrus O. Hubbell; second vice-president, George Ehret

St. Louis, June 6.-Nearly a hundred representative colored Democrats from more than a dozen States, but chiefly from the North, held a meeting here yes-terday afternoon and organized a negro National Democratic League. James M. Vena, of St. Louis, was elected chairman, T. T. Brown, of Springfield. Ill., secretary Herbert A. Clark, of Cincinnati, chair man of the Executive Committee, to be composed of one member from each State. A committee embracing J. M. Vena, of St. Louis; Charles H. Sheldon, of Indiana : W. T. Scott and T. T. Brown, of Illinois ; and A. F. Manning, of Indiana, were appointed to represent the League at the General Democratic League, to be held at Raltimore, July 4. Resolutions were adopted indersing the Administration of President Cleveland, and the league adjourned to meet in Chicago at the call of the chairman. The plan of organization and the purpose of the league is the same as other similar leagues of the great parties.

CHAT ABOUT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

Ex-Senator T. C. Platt has been represented for several days as having committed himself and urged his friends to commit themselvos on the Presidential nomina-tion question. He was asked about these reports last tion question. He was assed about tasse reports lar-night, and replied: "There is no truth in them. I have not committed myself, and, what is more, do not in-tend to do so. It is a very good time to wait and see what the drift of the country is. In my recent interview in The Tribune I urged upon delegates in this State the wisdom of waiting until they get to Chicago and see all the representatives of the party before they make up their minds what action to take. I still adhere to that advice, and have not departed from it myself. I am committed to no one."

"The Democratic National ticket," said State Senator J. Sleat Fassett, of Elmira, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, yesterday, " is a kangaroo ticket, strongest in its hind legs. I have no interest in reading the platform, be-cause Cleveland and his message are the platform, and on that we can lick the boots off the Democratio party." Mr. Faseett has nearly recovered from his recent severe attack of bronchitis. His Senate investigating committee will resume its labors here to-morrow. He is a delegate to the Chicago Convention, and concerning Republican

"I am for any good man, Allison, Harrison or Algereither one will suit me. I want the man that can win. I am for Morton or Phelps or Hawley for Vice-President, just as the situation may seem to require when we get to Chicago."

Ex-State Senator Knapp, who was in New-York yesterday, chatting about politics said: " If Mr. Depew will allow the use of his name I think he ought to be nominated said: "I think General Alger, of Michigan, would make an available candidate, and that he will get three-fourths of the New York delegation. I would like to see the delegation act as a unit. If Mr. Depew was a candidate, I think they would be pretty nearly solid for him. As he will not be a candidate, I think General Alger will be considered the next strongest man. If it should come about that we cannot agree, Mr. Biaine might yet be drafted."

THE NOMINATION FALLS FLAT.

LITTLE INTEREST FELT IN THIS CITY. ONE SALUTE FIRED IN SPITE OF THE LAW-ALL THE "POOMERS" OUT OF TOWN.

People who were out last night looking for enthusiasm as the result of Cleveland's renomination had a difficult time of it and were poorly rewarded for their pains. The principal places of Democratic resort had much the appearance of political headquarters after a disastrous defeat. At the New-Amsterdam and Manhattan Clubs there was scarcely the sign of life. The lights burned low, and a few disappointed-looking politicians of small magnitude went in and out in a spondent way. If they had anything to say to each other it was in almost inaudible whispers. No one of note was to be seen at either place.

The Hoffman House was not so deserted but it contrasted poorly with the night after Hill's nomination for Governor three years ago. Judge Muller, the Governor's chief lieutenant, was one of the few Democrats who walked about with a cheerful face. Many well-known Democrats dropped in long enough to admit that the nomination had fallen flat.

A young Democrat, the son of an influential leader, who is one of the largest stockholders in one of the principal surface railways of this city said: "I have excellent opportunities for knowing how the working-We have 4,500 of them is our employ and I men feel. the renomination had been received without a particle of evidence that it had its origin in any movement of

Among the few attempts at ratification was a meeting of the County Democracy in Abingdon Square which gave no evidence of an elated state of mind. Both the and the other at No. 83 East Fourth-st. If the gatherings had been consolidated they would scarcely have been called a respectable meeting, although Julius C. Harburger and Charles Steckler expended much energy in getting them up and conducting them.

Cleveland, which was to have been put upon a transparency last night was regarded as a bad omen by many of the followers of that organization.

THYING TO ARRANGE FOR A SALUTE. James J. Kelso, Superintendent of Markets, at the head of a committee of the County Democracy, called on Mayor Hewitt yesterday, immediately after the ws came from St. Louis of the renomination of Mr. Cleveland, and asked for a permit to fire one hundred guns in City Hall Park. Mr. Hewitt referred his vistors to the Board of Park Commissioners, remarking that the sole power rested with them. Thither Mr. Kelso and his friends went to present their application. Commissioners Towle and Borden listened to Mr. Kelso, sympathized with him in his desire to do honor to the great head of the Democratic party, but regretted that they were unable to grant the request. The committee hurried back to the Mayor and laid the case anew before him. Mr. Hewitt smiled as blandly The committee hurried back to the Mayor and isn't no case anew before him. Mr. Hewitt smiled as blandly upon them as the Park Commissioners had done. But he couldn't interfere, he said. The guns were not

THE MAYOR IS RETICENT.

The interview which appeared in yesterday's papers in the form of a Buffalo dispatch, representing Mayor Hewitt as having declared that he would not vote for Mr. Cleveland this fall, was brought to the Mayor's delighted with the unanimous expression of the wishes of the delegates. Judge Cowing, of the Court of Gen-eral Sessions, said that with Cleveland as the condidate the issue must be one of protection against free-trade, even if the Democrats did not specifically approve free-trade doctrine in their National platform.

MARKED INDIFFERENCE IN WALL STREET. The Stock Exchange takes an eager interest in political contests and is always ready to shout itself hourse for its favorite candidates. The silence which followed the reception of the news from St. Louis was specially remarkable on this account. There was not faintest effort at a cheer, although the younger Republicans were inclined to raise their voices when they discovered that their opponents were lacking in enthusiasm. The renomination of President Cleveland fell flat in spite of the fact that the market was so fell flat in spite of the fact that the market was so dull that anything favorable would have been thankfully received. There was a suspicion, in consequence a case, I certainly would not have troubled the Districtfully received. There was a suspicion, in consequence of the unusually large offerings of bonds, that the Treasury price might be advanced to give a Government salute to the action of the Convention. Treasury surplus was sufficient to furnish powder, but a shiful gunner seemed to be lacking.

It is plain that many Democrats had hoped an accident might prevent a re-nomination. Addison Cam-mack, the famous bear leader, who is a "dyed in the wool" Democrat, received the news with a wry face. A Tribune reporter shortly afterward said to him:

Well, you've got to vote for him." The Ursa Major replied with his customary vigor that he could not be forced to vote for anybody. In a second he insisted that he was not talking for publi-second he insisted that he was not talking for publication and professed that he was satisfied with the action of the party. A friend who had heard the remark whispered: "Cammack may vote for Cleveland, but he wor't give $30,000 or $50,000 to the campaign fund, as he did four years ago."

At the Consolidated stock and Petroleum Exchange there was a marked contrast between the way the news of the nomination was received four years ago and the news of the renomination yesterday. Apparently it had only taken one term to lessen the enthusiasm of many brokers who in the last Presidential campaign looked with actual faith upon the slogan, "Cleveland and Reform." This year the ardor of reformers has been chilled, and added to that has been a disgust that the wonderful change of five years ago left sluggish business and depressed speculation as its legacy of to-day. The nomination was expected as a cut-and-dried affair, and the principal interest shown was a little vexation that the programme wasn't carried out more speedily. There were some oil-time Democrats who gave vent to the usual emphatic predictions of the "sure success" of the ticket, but there was an indifference to the St. Louis proceedings which indicated a decided lack of interest in the fortunes of the Administration candidate. Republicans talked in a strain which may be summarized as follows: "Well, he's nominated at last. Who will be our man chosen to beat him?"

MR. JASPER RE-ELECTED.

CHARGES AGAINST HIM DISMISSED.

A FAVORABLE MAJORITY BROUGHT IN-THE VOTE ON ELECTION 12 TO 9.

Superintendent John Jasper was re-elected yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Education, after a long and bitter contest. All the members of the Board were present, and the seats were crowded with teachers from schools in all immediately below the grand hallway, will be conparts of the city. After the election the teachers nected therewith by a unique little staircase and afford and Commissioners who had sustained the Superinconvenient access to those whose appetites have tendent crowded into his office, where he had remained during the session, and offered him their congratulations.

Near the close of the session the majority report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges against the Superintendent was read. This was signed by Commissioners Lummis, Vermilye, Purdy and Holt, and completely exonerated Mr. Jasper. On the specification that he had not done his duty in removing Miss Mason from the schools for immorality the report maintained that the evidence showed that nothing had been presented to promised to "run up" during the summer. do not believe that 300 out of the whole number will sustain the charge. The whole subject permeetings in the Nih District, one at No 72 Second-ave. | plexed the committees and the trustees, and there | was no reason to blame the Superintendent for the same perplexity. In the case of Miss Buckalew, Mr. Jasper insisted that she should comply with the by-laws of the Board, but he advocated The destruction at Tammany Hall of a portrait of a change in the by-laws before a committee of the Board, in which he was overruled. In the case of Miss Wright the implied charge of neglect was divert her summer patronage. The story of this is not sustained. county Democracy leader of the AlAth Democracy leader of the AlAth Democracy leader of the Sand Sided for a permit to shoot Cleveland guns in the "Circle" at Fifty-ninth-st, and Eighth-ave. His application was refused on the same grounds. A twelve-plound cannon, however, was dragged into the "Circle" after nightfall, and thirteen guns were fired for "Cleveland and Reform." This was the only demonstration of the kind in the city, and the law was broken to accomplish it.

THE MAYOR IS RETICENT. Mr. Cleveland this fall, was brought to the Mayor's attention yesterday. Mr. Hewlit said that his vote was his own and that he would allow no one to inquire how he intended to cast it.

"But as to the interview. Do you desire to be understood as refusing either to affirm or deny it?"

"That is it, exactly," replied the Mayor. "I decline either to affirm or deny it."

After the nomination of Mr. Cleveland had been made known, Mr. Hewlit refused to express any opinion regarding it. "I have nothing to say on the subject of candidates, platforms or politics," he said. "I have no favors to ask and expect none. I knew when I entered upon the office of Mayor that if I did my duty it would prove my political death."

Ex-Assemblyman and Aqueduct Commissioner Hamfl ton Fish said that, as far as his observation went, no Presidential nomination within his recollection had been publicans want to do now," said Mr. Fish, "is to nominate a good man on an unequivocal protection platform, and they will sween file country."

RETURNS FROM ST. LOUIS TO HIS WORK. Alderman Conkling absolutely refused to say anythin yesterday in reference to the character of the charges which he made on Tuesday at the District-Attorney's office against Alderman Dewling. He did not dony that he made them, that they were founded on the statements nude to him by men whose names he had furnished to the District-Attorney, and that they were in his judgment of sufficient weight to secure conviction, but further than this he declined to go. "All I knew," he said, "is Attorney's office with it.

But while Mr. Conkling maintained silence in regard to But while Mr. Conking maintained sectors as generally the nature of the charges made by him, it was generally understood that they referred particularly to Dowling's alloged action in reference to the East River Tunnel—that great $5,000,000 undertaking which was stopped peremp-torily by the Common Council, or rather the element in it represented by Dowling, Mooney and others of their stripe. Dowling had a conference with General Roy stripe. Dowling had a conference with General Roy stone about the tunnel, but what he said or suggested at that interview General Stone refuses to disclose until asked to do so by the Grand Jury. The General expects to be called before that body this week. He night that he was perfectly willing to go and tell all he knew. He felt that it would not be proper to anticipate any disclosures that he intended to make, but he did not hesitate to denounce the present system of things that would permit a body of men like the majority of the preseas Commen Council to defeat a work of such importance as that his company had undertaken.

Mr. Conkling's charges are also believed to cover the case of the College Point Ferry Company, of which Bernard Kearns, the official head of the Liquor Dealers' Association, is president.

It is not asserted that Dowling this matter, but visited Kearns in regard to "arranging" this matter, but it is claimed that a representative of the Alderman did, and that Kearns will testify to this fact. PREPARATIONS FOR A BUSY SEASON.

THE RECENT LIBEL ON THE HEALTHFULNESS OF THE VILLAGE PROMPTLY DEALT WITH-WHAT NATURE AND SANITARY SCIENCE HAVE DONE-EARLY ARRIVALS.

Richfield Springs, N. V. June 9 -Richfield Springs

is at this writing, although the opening day of the season of 1888 is two weeks or more in the future, one of the busiest little villages in the State of New-Upon all hands is seen the painter, that artist in white whose brush annually covers acres of clapboards, and from all altitudes comes a veritable pandemonium of hammering and pounding in general. One of the noisest places in town is the New American, in which hotel Mr. Earle, the new proprietor, is making some very acceptable improvements in the way of a passenger elevator, billiard room, cafe and bowling alley. The billiard room and cafe, situated been sharpened by a promenade upon the long veranda, or for whom the cotillon has momentarily given way to a social game with the cue. Mr. Earle seems to appreciate the requirements of his prespective guests and to be resolved to meet them. There are other improvements in contemplation for which there is not sufficient time this year. In conversation with Mr. Earle in regard to the prospects for the New American under its new management, I was told that the indications point to a successful first season. Mr. Earle has a large circle of friends

At the Spring House, where nearly everything that needed to be done in the way of improvement was done last year or the year before, there is a small army of workmen doing the thousand and one things that inevitably must be done every year before the opening of a summer hotel. The most notable addition to the conveniences of this well appointed hotel is the placing of the electric light in every room of lighted by electricity. That the Spring House, which will continue under the personal direction of Mr. Proctor, will enjoy its accustomed popularity during the coming season, will be evident from that part of the engagement list appended to this letter. The smaller hotels and cottages-the Tulier House,

The Board of Health of the town of Richfield, having had brought to its notice a statement printed in "The New York Evening Sup" of May 22, 1886, "that an epidemic of typhold fever and diphtheria was reging at Richfield Springs," we hereby assert in the most unequivocal manner, that there is not a single case of diphtheria or typhold fever in the town of Richfield, or in the village of Richfield Springs. We deneunce this statement as a malicious faisehood, evidently designed to injure the village of Richfield Springs as a summer resort.

Mr. H. D. Luce, the attorney for Mr. Clapsaddle, upon the publication of "The Sun" article, promptly informed his client of his withdrawal from the case. not being willing to appear as countenancing any at tempt to injure the village. At the citizens' meeting, Mr. Eugene M. Earle, of the New American, was deputed to go to New-York and obtain a retraction from 'The Sun" and any other newspaper that had copied the article. As a result of Mr. Earle's represent of the falsity of the report, the following denial ap-peared in the morning edition of "The Suu": We are assured by those in whom we have confidence that the report of a dangerous and fatal epidemic at Rich-leid Springs is untrue and unfounded, and that the place is as healthy as it ever has been.

The force of this retraction was considerably lessened by a paragraph in "The Evening Sun," which con-vinced the village authorities that energetic measures must be adopted in order to prevent a repetition of similar paragraphs. A fund of $1,500 was raised in three hours, and Mr. Earle and others again interviewed the manager of "The Sun," who agreed to publish another article which should be satisfactory. In the other article which should be satisfactory. In the issue of May 31 appeared the following:

It will be delightful news to the many thousands who enjoy the charms of Richaeld Springs in the summer to know that the reputs of prevailing sickness thore are wholly unitue. The village is clean, sweet swelling and heatthy, and the strices compaint there size less fail. The quideline of Health has serious compaint there size less fail. Other journals, The Tribune, "The Herald," "World" and "Star," have published denials of these false re-ports. Since the publication of " 'The Sun' article," as it is commonly referred to here, Mr. Clapsaddle had concluded that for him Richfield is not the pleasantest abode in the world and has left town, the connection between his house and the new sewer has been made and the premises are now as healthful as any in the and the premises are now as healthful as any in the village. Those wil o come to Eichfield have nothing to fear as to the healthfulness of the piace, where up to this time only four deaths have occurred during the last year, and three of these were of persons over seventy years of are. It is a fact not to be controverted that Richfield never was healthier than it is the today, and that the affidavit of the physicians, supplemented by the statement of the Board of Health, is literally true, namely, that there is not at this time, nor has there been since January I, a single case of contagious or infectious disease in Richfield Springs. Richfield is healthy because it is clean and because the people drink pure water and breathe yure air.

Ensenced is a picturesque valley, 1,700 feet above the sea, near the shores of a little lake. Nature seems to have intended the spot for a sort of Mecca for her health-seeking children. She has generoosly cooperated with the best representatives of modern sanitary science to secure every condition necessary to the repretuity of her shrine. Every drop of water one drinks at Richfield comes from springs 150 feet above the town. This water has been analyzed and found to be nure.

The new system of gun-barrel sewers was completed three years ago, under the supervision of Professor D. M. Greene, of the Troy Polytechnic Institute, an acknowledged authority in sanitary engineering. Of this system Mr. Ernest W. Bowdlich, the value of whose opinion in such matters will not be questioned, writes to the president and Board of Trustees of the village of Richfield as follows:

to the president and posted of Princes of the Section of Ritchield as follows:

The new system of gun-barrel sewers and ground water tile just finished at Ritchield Springs ought to be sufficient for the requirements of the village for a great many years to come, and the laterals can be added to, when needed, very considerably without gorging the main lines at any point. As is always the case with gun-tarrel sewers, there is not a few of the 22,000 comprising the present system that cannot be thoroughly inspected and cleaned at any time, without digging up any jortion of the pipe. The new water supply from Allen's Leike, new being introduced, with home cornections made, will render the sanitary condition of Ritchield Springs entirely satisfactory, and much more so than that of any other summer resert, except Nahant, Mass., and possibly Bar Harbor, Maine. No fool soil was turned up during the progress of the work, and the surfaces of all streets are now perfect—being well graded and dry-and melting exists in them, to my knowledge, in the least prejudical to health.
